of solving practice test papers. They have also brief that how college GPAT Test Series has played a crucial role in timely preparation of specific content. They have emphasizes good performance in GPAT examination requires a clear understanding of the basics before moving on to more complicated topics. Qualifiers advised Do's & Don't prior to month of the examination. They have also suggested the reference textbook of each subject as well as GPAT aspirants were advised to avoid making their notes bookish since the more simple the notes, the easier it is for them to learn. They have recommended that candidates devote some time each day to practicing numerical questions and formulas to be remembered by heart. They have emphasizes that aspirants need to practice the GPAT previous year questions to know the level of the questions they will encounter on the test. The program was coordinated by Dr. Amol Warokar, Associate Professor, DBCOP and Mr. Sachin More, Assistant Professor, DBCOP, Nagpur.
