Relevance to Pos: II, III, IV, V, VI, VII, VIII, IX, X, XI

Objectives:

1. To encourage students and to motivate them for implementation of their knowledge related to science.

Beneficiary: Students are primary beneficiary of the program.

Program organizing committee: IIC & Idea Club of DBCOP

Program outcome:

The National Science Day is celebrated every year on 28 February to commemorate the discovery of "Raman Effect" in 1928 by Sir Chandrasekhara Venkata Raman, which led to awarded him the Noble Prize. It is held every year to provide exposure to students' talent for implementation of their knowledge related to science. On the occasion of National Science day, DBCOP- IIC & Idea Club conducted Museum making competition for B. Pharm students. Students of B. pharm have actively participated and expressed their ideas in the form of small models, charts, etc which were placed in the museum. Winner amongst all the classes were selected on the basis of uniqueness, idea and presentation by the evaluators.
